

Begin Again

by Maddy and Nancy
lyrics by Maddy and Nancy Posner

Is this the limit or an origin,
A new beginning from another end,
A sudden freedom or a prison?
We begin again, again, again, again.

What's a simple definition:
The big bang theory or creation?
We wish for only one solution:
To begin again, again, again, again.

The world still keeps on turning, and the sky's still blue.
We just keep on learning what to hold on to.

Take one step in this direction—
Another rule or the exception.
Is this all just our perception?
To begin again, again, again, again.

The world still keeps on turning, and the sky's still blue.
We just keep on learning what to hold on to.

We begin again...

Is this real or an illusion?
Life is full of this confusion—
Another story, no conclusion.
To begin again, again, again, again.
