

Prevails, Despite Diminishing Resources

lyrics by Enrôl Yon

By and by your side,
The first time always seems
Like everything's alright
And always will be.

Hands fall to the sides
Rivers turn to streams
As sunrise breaks the night
You're right in front of me

Our thoughts drift over time while time's escaping me
There's nothing left to say
Avoid, foreshadow this

You were always mine
But now you choose to flee
Running far away
A hand becomes a fist

Brightness always dies
Every single day
And with it hope is gone
You're never back again

I look up to the sky
And try to find my way
It won't be very long
But I still wonder when
